CONOPCO, INC., d/b/a “UNILEVER,”
DOES 1 through 10,

Defendants.

Case No. 19JE-CC00490

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

FIRST AMENDED CLASS ACTION PETITION

Plaintiff Dan Crepps, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, hereby files this, his First Amended Class Action Petition, against Defendant Conopco, Inc., d/b/a “Unilever” and DOES 1 through 10 (collectively “Defendants”) for their false, misleading, and deceptive marketing of their products constituting, on a nationwide basis, breach of warranty, breach of implied contract, and unjust enrichment, and, in the state of Missouri, violations of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act, Mo. Rev. Stat. chap. 407 (“MMPA”).

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Defendant Unilever markets and sells many different consumer products, including deodorant and antiperspirant sticks. One such product is “Degree”-branded, “MotionSense” “UltraClear Black + White” antiperspirant.

2. The “UltraClear Black + White” line of products is deceptively and misleadingly marketed as being “anti yellow stains” and “anti white marks,” and having a formula that “helps prevent” white marks and staining; yet, in reality, the “Ultraclear” line of antiperspirant is nothing more than a slightly diluted version of regular “Degree”-branded, “MotionSense” men’s antiperspirant containing essentially the same ingredients with nothing added to “prevent” white marks or yellow staining.

3. Compared to the non-“Ultraclear” version of “MotionSense,” “Ultraclear” does not contain a single addition ingredient providing “protection” from staining or marks; the only material difference is that the Active ingredient in “Degree”-branded, “MotionSense,” Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY, is diluted from a concentration of 19.2% in Degree’s non-“Ultraclear” “MotionSense” antiperspirant to 11.4% in the “Ultraclear” line of products.

4. Yet even more problematic, it is well-established that the “yellow stains” and “white marks” that the “Ultraclear” line of antiperspirants claims to “prevent” or be “anti-” towards, are in fact created and caused by that very same active ingredient, Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY (“Aluminum”).

5. Thus, in reality, while perhaps doing it to a slightly lesser extent than Degree’s non-“Ultraclear” antiperspirants, the “Ultraclear” line of antiperspirants actually causes the very problems Unilever deceptively claims it “prevents” and/or is “anti” towards.

6. In short, while “Ultraclear” is marketed as “preventing” white marks and stains, it is nothing more than a less-effective version of Degree’s “MotionSense” antiperspirant that causes the very problem it claims to solve.

7. Despite all this, and despite being a diluted version thereof, Unilever sells the product for the same price as its non-“Ultraclear” “MotionSense” product, misleading and deceiving the buying public into paying the same amount for an inferior product while under the false impression that it is somehow superior.

8. Pursuant to the MMPA, such practice is illegal.

9. In addition and/or in the alternative to the above, since the initial offering of the Product, each and every container of the Product has borne a uniformly-worded label falsely claiming the Product is “Anti Yellow Stains” and/or “Anti White Marks.” Those uniformly-worded false statements give rise to additional and/or alternative claims on behalf of a nationwide class of similarly-situated consumers.

II. PARTIES, JURISDICTION, AND VENUE

10. Plaintiff Dan Crepps is a citizen and resident of Jefferson County, Missouri.

11. Plaintiff brings this First Amended Class Action Petition individually and on behalf of a putative nationwide class of all United States consumers and, additionally or alternatively, a putative class of Missouri residents.

12. Defendant Conopco, Inc. d/b/a “Unilever” (hereinafter “Unilever”) is a New York corporation having its principal place of business at 700 Sylvan Ave., Englewood Cliffs, NJ 07632. Unilever may be served at: CT Corporation System, 120 South Central Ave., Clayton MO 63105.

13. Defendant Unilever advertises, distributes, markets and sells “Degree”-branded, “MotionSense” “UltraClear Black + White” antiperspirant.

14. The true names and capacities of the Defendants sued herein as DOES 1 through 10, inclusive, are currently unknown to Plaintiff, who therefore sues such Defendants by fictitious names. Each of the Defendants designated herein as a DOE is legally responsible for the unlawful acts alleged herein. If necessary, Plaintiff will seek leave of Court to amend the Petition to reflect the true names and capacities of the DOE Defendants when such identities become known.

15. Venue is proper in the Circuit Court of Jefferson County, Missouri, because the Plaintiff resides here, and a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims in this action occurred in this venue.

16. This asserted class action comports with Missouri Supreme Court Rule 52.08 and with R.S.Mo. § 407.025(3) of the MMPA. Plaintiffs’ identities can be ascertained from Defendant’s records, but are so numerous that simple joinder of all individuals is impracticable. This action raises questions of law and fact common among Plaintiffs. The claims of lead Plaintiff is typical of all Plaintiffs’ claims.

Named Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect all Plaintiffs' interests, and is represented by attorneys qualified to pursue this action. More specifically:

17. Class and Subclass definition: Plaintiff Dan Crepps brings this action on behalf of himself and a nationwide class of similarly-situated persons preliminarily-¹defined as follows: All persons who purchased "Degree"-branded, "MotionSense" "UltraClear Black + White" antiperspirant (the "Product")² during the Class Period in the United States. In addition, and/or alternatively, Plaintiff Dan Crepps brings this action on behalf of himself and a Missouri subclass of similarly-situated persons defined as follows: All persons, who, within the Class Period, purchased the Product in the State of Missouri. The Class Period begins five years prior to the date of the filing of the Original Petition filed in this matter, July 4, 2014, and ceases upon the date of the filing of the Original Petition filed in this matter, July 4, 2019. Excluded from the Class and Subclass are: (a) any judges presiding over this action and members of their staffs and families; (b) the Defendants and their subsidiaries, parents, successors, and predecessors; any entity in which the Defendants or their parents have a controlling interest; and the Defendants' current or former officers and directors; (c) employees (i) who have or had a managerial responsibility on behalf of the organization, (ii) whose act or omission in connection with this matter may be imputed to the organization for liability purposes, or (iii) whose statements may constitute an admission on the part of the Defendants; (d) persons who properly execute and file a timely request for exclusion from the class; (e) the attorneys working on the Plaintiffs' claims; (f) the legal representatives, successors, or assigns of any such excluded persons; and (g) any individual who assisted or supported the wrongful acts delineated herein.

18. Numerosity: Upon information and belief, the Class and Subclass includes tens of thousands, if not hundreds of thousands, of individuals on a statewide basis, making their individual joinder impracticable. Although the exact number of Class and Subclass members and their addresses are presently unknown to Plaintiff, they are ascertainable from Defendants' records.

² As that term and label is defined in greater detail infra.

19. Typicality: Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of the Class and Subclass because all Plaintiffs were injured by the Defendants' uniform wrongful conduct, specifically, using misleading and deceptive marketing and advertising in offering and selling the Product to Plaintiffs.

20. Adequacy: Plaintiff Dan Crepps is an adequate representative of the Class and/or Subclass because his interests do not conflict with the interests of the Class or Subclass members he seeks to represent, he has retained competent and experienced counsel, and he intends to prosecute this action vigorously. The interests of the Class and Subclass will be protected fairly and adequately by Plaintiff and his counsel.

21. Commonality: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class and Subclass members and predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, such as: (a) whether the Defendant used deceptive or misleading marketing and advertising in selling the Product; (b) whether and to what extent the Class and Subclass members were injured by Defendant's illegal conduct; (c) whether the Class and Subclass members are entitled to compensatory damages; (d) whether the Class and Subclass members are entitled to punitive damages; (e) whether the Class and Subclass members are entitled to declaratory relief; and (f) whether the Class and Subclass members are entitled to injunctive relief.

22. Superiority: This class action is appropriate for certification because class proceedings are superior to all other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. The damages suffered by the individual Class and Subclass members will likely be small relative to the burden and expense of individual prosecution of the complex litigation necessitated by the Defendant's wrongful conduct. Thus, it would be extremely difficult for the individual Class and Subclass members to obtain effective relief. A class action presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of a single adjudication, including economies of time, effort, and expense, and uniformity of decisions.

III. BACKGROUND

23. Defendant manufactures, distributes, and/or sells the product at issue herein, “Degree”-branded, “MotionSense” “UltraClear Black + White” antiperspirant.

24. Defendant Unilever, in particular, owns the “Degree” brand and, under that brand name, manufactures and distributes, inter alia, “Degree”-branded, “MotionSense” “UltraClear Black + White” antiperspirant.

25. The “Ultraclear” line of products is marketed as being superior to non-“Ultraclear” “Degree”-branded “MotionSense” antiperspirant purportedly for having a “stain-minimizing formula” that “protects” clothes against “white marks” and “yellow stains.”³

26. The “Ultraclear” line of antiperspirants comes in multiple different varieties and scents, all of which have the same ingredients and are substantially similar to be considered collectively in this lawsuit; accordingly, all scents and varieties of the “Ultraclear” line are collectively referred to hereinafter as the “Product.”

27. The packaging of the Product makes at least two such claims:

28. As shown, the “Ultraclear” line is marketed as being “Anti-Yellow Stains,” and being “Anti White Marks.”

29. However, the active ingredient in the Product is Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY. It has long been recognized, and is well-accepted, that “yellow stains” and “white marks” on clothing is caused, at least indirectly, by aluminum in antiperspirants (generally upon being mixed with a user’s perspiration).

30. While the Product might in fact cause less staining than the “normal” “MotionSense” product and/or other antiperspirants on the market, it is irrefutable that the Product will inevitably lead and contribute to more staining on clothing than when it is not used at all.

31. Thus, regardless of the extent, the Product causes, at least indirectly, the exact condition – “staining” and/or causing “white marks” – that it purports to “protect” against and/or be “anti”- towards.

32. Further, on Unilever’s “Degree”-branded website, www.degreeodorant.com, in the

“About this Product” portion of the website devoted to the “Ultraclear” product, the Product is advertised as “protect[ing] against ...[inter alia] stains on clothing – black or white.”

<https://www.degreedeodorant.com/us/en/men/ultraclear-bw-ocean-air-antiperspirant-stick.html>

33. Moreover, in the same section of Unilever’s website, the Product is promoted as follows:

“Some antiperspirant deodorants mix with body oils and create stains. Not this one. With a stain-minimizing formula, clothes are protected against white marks and yellow stains.”

Id.

34. As shown, in multiple instances, Unilever promotes the Product as “protecting against,” and being “anti-” white marks and yellow stains. Those claims are false. So too is the claim that the Product does not “mix with body oils and create stains;” that is exactly what its active ingredient, Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY, does to create stains.

35. The Product has no such “protection” from yellow stains or white marks and, in fact, causes both.

36. Rather than constituting a superior product relative to the non-“Ultraclear” Degree-branded “Motionsense” antiperspirant, compared to non-“Ultraclear” Degree-branded “Motionsense,” the Product has essentially the same ingredients, with no added “protection.”

37. According to Unilever’s Degree-branded website, www.degreedeodorant.com, and confirmed by corresponding product packaging, both the Product and the non-“Ultraclear” “Motionsense” line contain the following ingredients:

- a. Active Ingredient: Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY
- b. Inactive Ingredients:
 - i. Cyclopentasiloxane, Stearyl Alcohol, PPG-14 Butyl Ether, Fragrance (Parfum), Hydrogenated Castor Oil, PEG-8 Distearate, Caprylic/Capric

Triglyceride, Sodium Starch Octenylsuccinate, Hydrated Silica, Maltodextrin, Gelatin Crosspolymer, Hydrolyzed Corn Starch, BHT, Silica, Cellulose Gum.

38. The only difference in the Product is that it contains Polyethylene, whereas the non-“Ultraclear” product does not, and the Product does not contain Talc. Upon information and belief Polyethylene does provide “protection” against white marks and yellow stains, nor does it do anything to “prevent” those conditions.

39. Moreover, while removing Talc may have a negligible affect on the white-marking quality of the Product versus the non-“Ultraclear” line of products, it certainly does not render the Product “Anti White Mark” or “Anti yellow stains.”

40. Other than those minimal changes, the only other difference between the Product and the non-“Ultraclear” line is that the active ingredient, Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY, is diluted from 19.2% (in the non-“Ultraclear” line) to 11.4% in the Product.

41. Such dilution of an active ingredient does not add “protection.”

42. Rather, the dilution of an active ingredient more likely simply reduces the effectiveness of the “normal” product, making the Product, in reality, inferior to the non-“Ultraclear” “MotionSense” line.

43. And that deceptive fact is in addition to the worse reality that the Product causes what it falsely claims to “protect” against and to “prevent”—white marks; upon testing, the Product readily creates white marks upon clothing of all colors.

44. Defendant’s “anti-yellow stains” and/or “anti-white marks” claims are patently false.

45. Merriam- Webster online dictionary defines the word “anti” as meaning, inter alia,

“serving to prevent, cure, or alleviate” or “combating or defending against;”⁴ the Product, containing ingredients that cause staining and white marks (even if to a lesser extent than other products), is unquestionably not fairly or honestly characterized as “anti-yellow stains” or “anti-white marks.”

46. A normal consumer is unable to determine simply by reading the claims on the Product packaging and/or the Product’s ingredient list that it actually contains no “protection” against, or otherwise “prevents” white marks and yellow stains.

47. While the fact is extremely well-established, a normal consumer also is unaware that Aluminum Zirconium Tetrachlorohydrate GLY is a key factor (along with a person’s perspiration) that contributes to and, at least indirectly, causes the “yellow stains” and “white marks” the Product purports to “prevent;” in fact, for that reason, it is entirely false for Defendants to claim that while “some antiperspirant deodorants mix with body oils and create stains,” [the Product does not].”

48. Moreover, while the Product very obviously leaves “white marks” on clothing, a potential purchaser is unable to test that fact prior to purchasing the Product.

49. Upon information and belief, Defendant Unilever profits from the wide-spread practice of selling a diluted version of its regular product for the same price as non-diluted versions.

50. Upon information and belief, it is cheaper for Unilever to produce the Product, a relatively-diluted version of its regular antiperspirant, than it is to produce its non-“Ultraclear” antiperspirant, such as the regular “Degree”-branded “Motionsense” line of antiperspirants.

51. Upon information and belief, Defendant Unilever deceptively and misleadingly markets the Product as falsely “protecting” against and “preventing” white marks and yellow stains to hide the fact from consumers that the Product is, in fact, inferior in its primary purpose, preventing perspiration, and is cheaper to produce.

52. Defendant's marketing and selling of the Product by use of the aforementioned false, deceptive, and misleading statements is illegal and prohibited under the MMPA.

Allegations Relating Specifically to Claims of the Nationwide Class

53. As noted, supra, since the initial offering of the Product, each and every container of the Product has borne a uniformly-worded label falsely claiming the Product is "Anti White Marks" and "Anti Yellow Stains" (hereinafter "False Claims").

54. In reality, testing of the Product reveals the falsity of the False Claims; not only does the Product readily leave white marks on multiple colors of clothing, when transferred to clothing from a user's body and mixed with perspiration, over time, the Product also creates yellow stains on clothing.

55. Defendant, as developer, manufacturer, and exclusive seller and distributor of the Product, has been aware since the Product's inception, that the False Claims are in fact false – that the Product leaves white marks and causes yellow stains.

56. Indeed, Defendant undoubtedly did its own testing of the Product prior to it being offered for sale and, of necessity, such testing would have made Defendant aware that the Product leaves white marks on clothing and causes yellow staining.

57. Despite this, Defendants purposely made the False Claims in order to induce the false belief in consumers that they were purchasing a product that caused no white marks or yellow stains on their clothing and instead was "anti white marks" and "anti yellow stains."

58. Plaintiff and the class members purchased the Product with no reason to suspect or know that the Product actually caused white marks and yellow stains.

59. Defendant possessed specialized knowledge regarding the data and information concerning the chemical formula of the Product and whether the Product would, in fact, cause yellow staining when combined with a user's perspiration.

60. In fact, in regard to the aspect of the False Claims relating to yellow staining, the Product is a credence good because its purported “anti yellow stains” benefit cannot be independently assessed or verified by the consumer at the time of purchase.

61. In purchasing the Product, Plaintiff and the class members had no choice but to necessarily and justifiably rely upon the False Claims as accurate.

62. Had Plaintiffs known that the False Claims were false, Plaintiffs would not have purchased the Product or would not have paid as much for the Product.

63. As the direct and proximate result of the False Claims, Plaintiff and the class members have suffered economic injury by being deprived of the benefit of the bargain they were promised by Defendant.

64. By marketing, selling and distributing the Product to purchasers in Missouri and throughout the United States, Defendant made actionable statements that the Product was “Anti White Marks” and “Anti Yellow Stains,” and at all times failed to disclose that the Product did in fact cause and/or contribute to white marks and yellow stains.

65. Defendant engaged in the above-described actionable statements, omissions and concealments with knowledge that the representations were false and/or misleading, and with the intent that consumers rely upon such concealment, suppression and omissions.

66. Alternatively, Defendant was reckless in not knowing that the False Claims were false and misleading at the time they were made.

67. As the distributor, marketer, producer, manufacturer, and seller of the Product, Defendant possessed specialized knowledge regarding the data and information concerning the chemical formula of the Product which the Plaintiff and the class members could not and did not review.

68. All of Plaintiffs’ claims are based on misleading statements that violate FDA regulations. Such claims do not seek to impose any additional or different obligations beyond those already required by such FDA regulations.

69. Further, Plaintiffs' claims arise, inter alia, from "front of the box" statements and symbols which are not regulated by the Nutrition Labeling and Education Act.

Facts Particular to Dan Crepps and Representative of the Proposed Class

70. In or around July of 2019, after having viewed Defendant's statements regarding the Product on www.degreedeodorant.com, Plaintiff visited a retail outlet for Unilever products, particularly Walgreens.

71. While there, Plaintiff observed that the Product was being sold for the same price as "regular" "Degree"-branded "Motionsense" antiperspirant.

72. Due to the claims on the packaging as well as the statements on www.degreedeodorant.com, Plaintiff falsely believed he was purchasing a product that was equally effective as the regular "Motionsense" antiperspirant but having "protection" against white marks and stains; Plaintiff believed the Product would "protect" against, as opposed to cause, "white marks" and "yellow stains."

73. Plaintiff thereafter purchased the Product.

74. At the time he purchased the Product, Plaintiff was unaware of the falsity of the Product's claims and/or the falsity of Defendant's online claims regarding the Product.

75. If Plaintiff had been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Defendant's claims regarding the Product, he would not have bought the Product.

76. When Plaintiff purchased the Product, he was injured by Defendant's illegally deceptive, false, and misleading conduct in marketing and selling the Product.

77. Although the aforementioned facts apply to named Plaintiff, for purposes of the proposed Class and Subclass, all that is relevant is that Plaintiff and the class members, United States and Missouri citizens, purchased the Product at a time within the Class Period while in the United States and/or Missouri.

CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNTS RELATING TO THE NATIONWIDE CLASS

COUNT ONE: BREACH OF WARRANTY

78. Plaintiff hereby incorporates by reference and re-alleges each allegation set forth in each preceding paragraph of this First Amended Petition.

79. Defendant sold the Product in its regular course of business. Plaintiff and the class members purchased the Product.

80. Defendant made promises and representations in an express warranty provided to all consumers, namely the False Claims -- that the Product was “anti white marks” and “anti yellow stains.”

81. The False Claims became the basis of the bargain between the Defendant and Plaintiff and each class member.

82. Defendant gave these express warranties to Plaintiff and each class member in written form on the labels of the Product.

83. Defendant’s written affirmations of fact, promises, and/or descriptions as alleged are each a written warranty.

84. Defendant breached the warranty because the False Claims were false – the Product in fact causes white marks and yellow stains.

85. The False Claims were false when the sales took place and were undiscoverable to Plaintiff and the class members at the time of purchase.

86. All conditions precedent to seeking liability under this claim for breach of express warranty have been performed by or on behalf of Plaintiff and the class in terms of paying for the Product. Defendant had actual notice of the false labeling information and to date has taken no action to remedy its breach of express and implied warranty.

87. Defendant previously knew or should have known of the falsity of the False Claims on the Product due to, inter alia, Defendant's testing and use of the Product.

88. Defendant has nonetheless refused to remedy such breaches.

89. By placing the Product in the stream of commerce, and by operation of law and the facts alleged herein, Defendants also impliedly warranted to Plaintiff and the class members that the Products were accurately labeled in conformance with the law.

90. Defendant's breaches of warranty have caused Plaintiffs and class members to suffer injuries, paying for falsely labeled products, and entering into transactions they otherwise would not have entered into for the consideration paid. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breaches of warranty, Plaintiff and class members have suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages in terms of the difference between the value of the product as promised and the value of the product as delivered.

91. As a result of Defendant's breach of these warranties, Plaintiff and class members are entitled to legal and equitable relief including damages, costs, attorneys' fees, rescission, and/or other relief as deemed appropriate, in an amount sufficient to compensate them for not receiving the benefit of their bargain.

COUNT TWO: BREACH OF IMPLIED CONTRACT (IN THE ALTERNATIVE)

92. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

93. By operation of law, there existed an implied contract for the sale of the Product between Defendant and Plaintiff and each class member who purchased the Product.

94. By operation of law, there existed an implied duty of good faith and fair dealing in each such contract.

95. By the acts alleged herein, Defendant has violated that duty of good faith and fair dealing, thereby breaching the implied contract between Defendant and each class member.

96. As a result of that breach, Plaintiff and each class member suffered damages.

COUNT THREE: UNJUST ENRICHMENT

97. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the allegations set forth in the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

98. Plaintiffs plead their claim for relief in the alternative to the contract claims set forth above.

99. Plaintiff and the class members have conferred substantial benefits on Defendant by purchasing the Product, and Defendant has knowingly and willfully accepted and enjoyed those benefits.

100. Defendant either knew or should have known that the payments rendered by Plaintiff and the class members were given and received with the expectation that the Product would be as represented and warranted. For Defendant to retain the benefit of the payments under these circumstances is inequitable.

101. Through deliberate misrepresentations or omissions in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, and sale of the Products, including the False Claims, Defendant reaped benefits, which result in Defendant wrongfully receiving profits.

102. Equity demands disgorgement of Defendant's ill-gotten gains. Defendant will be unjustly enriched unless Defendant is ordered to disgorge those profits for the benefit of Plaintiff and the class members.

103. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's wrongful conduct and unjust enrichment, Plaintiffs and the class members are entitled to restitution from Defendant and institution of a constructive trust disgorging all profits, benefits, and other compensation obtained by Defendant through this inequitable conduct.

COUNTS RELATING TO THE MISSOURI SUBCLASS

COUNT FOUR: VIOLATION OF THE MMPA – Misleading, False, and Deceptive Marketing

104. Plaintiff hereby incorporates by reference and re-alleges each allegation set forth in each preceding paragraph of this Petition, as though fully set forth herein.

105. Defendant's acts complained of herein occurred in and emanated from the State of Missouri.

106. Plaintiff and all members of the Class are "persons" and the Product is "merchandise" as those terms are defined under the MMPA.

107. As set out in this Petition, Defendant's marketing of the Product constitutes deception, false pretense, misrepresentation, unfair practice, or, at a minimum, the concealment, suppression, or omission of a material fact in violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act, Mo. Rev. Stat. chap. 407 ("MMPA"), in particular, Defendant marketed the Product by falsely claiming it "prevents" and "protects against" white marks and yellow stains.

108. As a result of Defendant's actions, consumers, including Plaintiff, were misled or deceived that the Product they were purchasing contained the claimed benefits and that it "protected" and/or prevent against conditions it actually contributes to and indirectly and directly causes.

109. Defendant's deceptive acts caused Plaintiff and the Class Members an ascertainable loss within the meaning of the MMPA. In particular, Plaintiff and the class paid for a Product that did not, in fact, contain the benefits claimed and did not, in fact, "protect" against and/or "prevent" the conditions Defendant purports it did; the Product was not "anti" yellow stains or white marks.

110. Due to Defendant's illegal conduct, Plaintiffs are entitled to restitution of all funds improperly obtained by Defendant.

111. In addition, Defendant's conduct as aforesaid was wanton, willful, outrageous, and in reckless indifference to the rights of Plaintiffs and others similarly situated and, therefore, warrants the imposition of punitive damages.

112. Plaintiffs have been forced to hire attorneys to enforce their rights under the MMPA.

COUNT FIVE: INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

113. Plaintiff hereby incorporates and adopts by reference each and every allegation set forth above.

114. Defendant continues to retain payment made by Plaintiff and other members of the Class for the Product that is the result of Defendant's deceptive and misleading marketing in violation of the MMPA.

115. Applicable law, including R.S. Mo. § 407.025, permits the Court to enter injunctive relief to prevent Defendant's continued violation of the law by continuing to falsely state that the Product "prevents" and/or "protects" against white marks and/or yellow staining.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for an order certifying this action as a Nationwide class action, along with a Missouri subclass, and appointing Plaintiff Dan Crepps as Class and Subclass representative and his counsel as class counsel. Plaintiff requests that this court find that the Defendant is liable pursuant to the aforementioned nationwide claims; and/or violated the MMPA, and award Plaintiffs compensatory damages, restitution, attorneys' fees, punitive damages, costs, and such further relief as the Court deems just.

Respectfully submitted,
